MidPen Supportive Housing Services

No one walks alone

From surviving to thriving

When you've lacked housing stability for years, it's hard to envision any other kind of life. The idea of living substance free feels impossible. Developing healthy relationships seems out of reach. And you can't consider proper nutrition when you don't know when or where you'll get your next meal. That's what it's like for many high-risk individuals. Moving into a MidPen supportive housing community changes all of that, giving them the skills and resources necessary to overcome challenges and change their futures.

MidPen Services, an affiliate of MidPen Housing, empowers thousands of our residents to leverage the opportunity that stable housing offers to transform their lives. We inspire them to see what's possible and partner with them to achieve it.

Services that increase housing stability

People in need of supportive services often struggle with mental, physical, or intellectual disabilities that make it a challenge to maintain housing. Our goal is to equip these high-risk individuals with tools for positive change and provide them with the social and mental healthcare necessary for them to live stable, independent lives. Through an expanding network of best-in-class partners we bring many critical services.

Supportive housing services include:

Functional assessments – Residents achieve and sustain their independence through individualized service plans (ISPs) created as the result of functional assessments.

Cognitive and behavioral modification – Reframing tools enable residents to change the way they think about trauma and its associated behaviors.

Professional case management and care coordination – Our case managers are highly skilled and experienced in serving multiple at-risk and acute populations.

Health and wellness programs – Nutritional education, health screenings, and onsite exercise facilities provide a holistic approach to residents' physical health and overall well-being.

Social integration – Supportive services residents live alongside other residents in many MidPen communities. Organized activities – including potlucks and holiday events – encourage community building and social integration.

After the grievous loss of my wife triggered trauma from my experience in Vietnam, I spiraled into alcoholism, which led to my losing my job and my home. I became homeless.

Between a beautiful apartment and valuable services, MidPen gave me a second chance at life. I'm sober and healthy and love volunteering in my community. We need more programs like this.”
